Kitchen W8

Kensington's Michelin Starred Neighbourhood Restaurant

Tucked away in a side street near Holland Park is one of London's best kept secrets. A neighbourhood restaurant with exceptional service and extraordinarily good food.

Kitchen W8 has held a Michelin star since 2011, and that's due to the immense skill of our chef Mark Kempson and the influence of co-owner Phil Howard.

Phil and his restaurateur partner Rebecca Mascarenhas are responsible for some of London's finest restaurants including Elystan Street in Chelsea.

critical acclaim

It's the sort of restaurant every neighbourhood should have because it succeeds on so many levels.

Michelin Guide, 2022

Kitchen W8 shrewdly delivers a winning neighbourhood-cum-destination format.

The AA Restaurant Guide, 2022

When the stars align and it all comes together, it is something very special indeed, and that was exactly what we experienced at Kitchen W8.

Sophie Farrah, Essential Surrey

For the quality of food, flawless service and its upmarket postcode, Kitchen W8 is one of the best-value Michelin-starred restaurants in London

Square Meal, 2022

A Michelin-starred neighbourhood restaurant that isn't to be missed. Warm, welcoming and unforgettable, the dishes are both local and seasonal.

Forbes, 2021

This restaurant has everything I love about eating out. Atmosphere, location, deliciousness, newly discovered wines and a chance to talk and talk.
